About Me /

I recently started the SMU Full Stack Flex coding bootcamp this August. I have no prior experience in the field but want to make a career change. So far it is challenging and fascinating at the same time. I'm already at a point where I can spend hours compuslively tweaking code. The most paintful part so far has been figuring out cards and flex boxes. I can't for the life of me get the 2nd row of cards to fill up the width properly without inserting extra text into the card footer. It is absolutely maddening and it's taken every fiber of self-control and willpower to stop myself from banging my head against the wall until I go unconscious. Hopefully I can figure it out before the weekend gets here. Also, if my webpage looks awful on my smart phone I think I might lose the last shred of sanity I have left
